Preface

The Criminal Law Review was first published in 1954 and quickly established very high standards in both case reporting, and in its articles designed to appeal to both practitioner and academic. This Index, covering the period 1954–1989, is the key to that wealth of material published over the last 35 years, and is published as an additional service to our subscribers.

Further updating volumes will be issued from time to time in the future—additional copies are available from the publishers.
